EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

Response To Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 13 July 2005 have been fully considered and are persuasive for the most part, with the exception of the argument on page 48, lines 11-17, that Davie (U.S. Patent No. 6,298,619) is not prior art. Applicant argues that "Davie was under a duty and obligation to assign the present application to the owner of the present application at the time of the invention." This is not understood since it Michael J. Wolfe who is the Applicant of the present application and not Davie and since Davie does not appear to have any ownership rights in the present application as not being a named inventor. Regardless, for 35 U.S.C. § 103(c) to be applicable, it would have had to have been Michael J. Wolfe who was under an obligation to assign the present application to Advanced Building Components, Inc. (Assignee of the Davie Patent and the present application) at the time the present application was filed and this does not seem to be the case. Therefore, Davie (U.S. Patent No. 6,298,619) is still considered proper prior art against the present application.
